IN THE HEADLINES

This edition of In the Headlines serves as a reminder of newly effective standards and standards issued but not yet effective for reporting periods¹ ending on 30 June 2012.

In this publication, the term 'standards' is used broadly to refer to new standards, and amendments to or interpretations of standards.

The standards that need to be considered for the first time for annual periods ending 30 June 2012 are listed below by their effective dates. All of the effective dates given refer to the start of an annual accounting period. Changes since the previous edition of In the Headlines – Reminder: Effective dates of IFRS (issue 2012/04) are highlighted with a star (★).

The applicability of these standards for a particular period has been identified as follows.

- Standards that are effective for the first time and are required to be applied for the annual period (and therefore any interim periods within the annual period) have been identified with a tick (✓).
- Standards that are not yet mandatory but are available for early adoption for a particular period have been identified with a circle (○). Entities with annual reporting periods ending on 30 June 2012 can also refer to these standards in considering the disclosure that should be made to comply with paragraph 30 of IAS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors.

Standards that first became effective in an earlier annual period have been identified with a cross (✗).

This edition of In the Headlines does not cover proposed accounting guidance. The official standards, amendments to standards, interpretations or other information referred to here should be read for more complete information on the new requirements and their transitional provisions.

New this quarter

One major change is the publication of Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2009–2011 Cycle. The IASB has made amendments to five standards and consequential amendments to other standards and interpretations. These amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2013, and earlier application is permitted. For more information on the amendments, see IFRS Newsletter: The Balancing Items – Issue 2.

¹ 'Reporting period' could refer to either interim or annual (YR) periods. Interim periods are generally either half-year (HY) or quarterly reporting periods (Q1, Q2, Q3, Q4).
