KPMG’s international standards are not legal standards and cannot be enforced. Such services are provided solely by reference to various KPMG’s International (including subsidiaries and associates) in more than 150 countries. KPMG International and its member firms are in no way liable to any person who relies on the information in this publication or any other service or product rendered by KPMG International or any other member firm or any other person or entity. Without limiting the generality of the above, no member firm or KPMG International is bound by any other information in this publication or any other information from any source, to place these entities in the relationship of parent, subsidiary, affiliate, partner, or joint venturer. No person other than the member firm that provides the services, to which such information in this publication refers, has authority to render or provide such information or other services.

The IASB has decided to defer the effective date for these amendments indefinitely. Adoption is still permitted.